

Demergist runs

Demerger activist Steven Erdelyi will be running in this year's municipal elections for the reborn municipality of Côte St. Luc, in District 4.

Erdelyi, a Marymount Academy math and science teacher and a former language rights activist with Alliance Quebec, will be running in the district held by former councillor Richard Schwartz.

"I believe it's important that citizens elect city councillors that have fought to regain our city and will continue to act on their behalf in the future," he said.

Erdelyi says his goals include ensuring local services reach pre-merger levels, protecting the former city's Emergency Medical Services, enacting traffic calming measures and keeping local roads in "meticulous" condition. —JG ■
